Illinois Red Light Camera Laws: Anatomy of a Scam

National Motorists Association, July 21, 2009

"Thanks to the stories by the Herald and Tribune, legislators are feeling the public pressure on this issue and are considering reforming the red-light camera laws."

Supports a Ban on Red Light Cameras.

Big brother is watching more than ever as red light cameras have gone up throughout our communities.

But many have questioned their purpose – and whether they benefit the people or the politicians.

“When the very first red-light camera was planted in the suburbs at 25th Avenue and Harrison Street in Bellwood, it instantly became more than just a traffic control device. It became a cash machine.”

– Chicago Tribune, July 12, 2009

As State Representative, David McSweeney will support State Senator Dan Duffy’s legislation banning Red Light Cameras for right turn violations.

“As many news reports have proven, the red light cameras are not for safety of life but rather for safety of bureaucrats’ jobs who have found this hidden tax. Government exists to serve the people, not the other way around.” – David McSweeney
